

The Sodality Foundation Awards Its First Grant to Public Safety Psychology Group
$10,000 grant supports mental health and resiliency services for first responders

Albuquerque, NM – November 10, 2025 – The Sodality Foundation, a New Mexico-based nonprofit organization dedicated to supporting mental health and wellness initiatives for first responders, has announced the distribution of its first grant in the amount of $10,000 to the Public Safety Psychology Group (“PSPG”).

This inaugural grant will fully fund ten sponsorships for leaders in law enforcement and fire departments across the state to attend the PSPG Leadership Wellness Retreat in Chama, NM on November 23-26, 2025. Hosted by the Public Safety Psychology Group, this powerful retreat is designed to support the mental wellness, leadership growth, and resilience of our public safety professionals.

“This first grant distribution represents a major milestone for The Sodality Foundation and the beginning of what we hope will be a lasting impact on the wellbeing of those who serve our communities, our local heroes” said Ashly Key, President and Co-Founder of The Sodality Foundation. “Our partnership with PSPG is just the first of many grants to come as we continue to advance our mission of strengthening mental health support for first responders and their families.”

“PSPG is excited to partner with the Sodality Foundation to provide this inaugural Leadership Retreat” said Troy Rodgers, Psy. D. and agency director, “Over a year of intense preparation and planning has gone into this and we are eagerly anticipating the Law Enforcement and Fire Department representatives’ arrival in Chama at the end of the month.”
